

VN-Index's trend

➤ Weekly chart

Current price:	1,042	points
Support level:	980 – 1,000	points
Resistant level:	1,100 – 1,120	points

VN-Index is on mid-term Sideway trend, as week MA5, 13, and 26 are meeting and being flat, and the index is forming small week candles around these MA lines, within a range of 1,000 to 1,100 points.

Not just that, the signs between MACD and RSI are different, and RSI stayed below Midline, showing weak motivation, and MACD was above Signal, maintaining buying sign, showing inconsistency among the indicators when the market is struggling and the trend is unclear. However, the index saw two dropping candles in a row and closed below week MA26, and -DI tended to widen the gap above +DI, showing that the sign tended to dropping toward lower support level, or 1,000 points.

In general, VN-Index is on mid-term sideway trend. Therefore, investors should have priority on short-term surfing when the market recovers.

VN-Index's trend

➤ Daily chart

VN-Index might be on short-term drop. The index stayed below MA20 and 50, and the volume stayed below 10 and 20-session average. Showing that the cash flow tends to stay out.

Not just that, other technical signs also became negative. In which, MACD stayed below Signal, showing selling sign, and RSI tended to below 40, showing stronger correcting pressure. At the same time, -DI stayed above +DI, showing risk of dropping and the index might move to support level of 1,000 – 1,020 points (bottom of March).

In general, VN-Index saw a short-term drop to lower support level of mid-term Sideway lower line. Therefore, investors should keep a safe weight to create room to return to the market when there is stability at lower support level.

VN-Index's Scenarios

We update the scenarios that might take place on VN-Index in the first half of 2023 as follow:

➤ Basic Scenario: VN-Index ends Q2 at 1,000 points.

With basic scenario, VN-Index might move in sideways trend within a small range from 1,000 to 1,100 points. Then, VN-Index might reach a peak in May of 1,100 points, but will correct to 1,000 points at the end of Q2/2023.

Controlling elements:

- Vietnam might move toward flexible monetary policies to support the economic recovery, as well as maintaining macro stability.
- State Bank still raises the growth room at a low rate around 14% in 2023. At the same time, the Government tries to deal with company bond problem to support real estate to be stable again.
- However, the company bond problems might not be resolved soon and it needs time, since investors' worries will not be eased soon, and the companies still see problems on this mobilizing channel.
- The high interest rate in the world might lead to a risk of global economic starting a new recession, and foreign cash flow tends to seek shelter instead of expanding the investment, and foreign investors will lower the net buying

Participating strategy:

- We forecast the change on this scenario at 50%. The reason is that domestic and world macro situation doesn't get worse.
- With this scenario, investors should have priority on surfing positions instead of long-term holding.

At positive scenario, VN-Index might move to old bottom of July 2022 or 1,140 points, before correcting again to sentimental level of 1,100 points at the end of Q2/2023.

Controlling elements:

- Vietnam might move toward flexible monetary policies to support the economic recovery, as well as maintaining macro stability.
- State Bank still raises the growth room at a low rate around 14% in 2023. At the same time, the Government tries to deal with company bond problem to support real estate to be stable again.
- However, the company bond problems might not be resolved soon and it needs time, since investors' worries will not be eased soon, and the companies still see problems on this mobilizing channel.
- Foreign investors realize the attraction on Vietnam market and return to net buying.
- The high interest rate in the world might lead to a risk of global economic starting a new recession.

Participating strategy:

- We forecast the chance on this scenario at 20%. Since SBV is pushing on lowering management interest rate to support GDP growth.
- With this scenario, investors should keep the weight with priority on the codes with positive business prospect.

VN-Index's scenarios

➤ Negative scenario: VN-Index drops to support level of 900 points

In this scenario, VN-Index might drop to support level of 1,000 points before seeing technical recovery to week MA26, and dropping again to around sentimental level of 900 points at the end of Q2/2023.

Controlling elements:

- Vietnam might move toward flexible monetary policies to support the economic recovery, as well as maintaining macro stability.
- State Bank still raises the growth room at a low rate around 14% in 2023. At the same time, the Government tries to deal with company bond problem to support real estate to be stable again.
- However, the company bond problems might not be resolved soon and it needs time, since investors' worries will not be eased soon, and the companies still see problems on this mobilizing channel.
- The high interest rate in the world might lead to a risk of global economic starting a new recession, and foreign cash flow tends to seek shelter instead of expanding the investment, and foreign investors will lower the net buying.
- Vietnam GDP growth prospect is still negative, and the low growth might prolong to remaining quarters of 2023.

Participating strategy:

- We forecast the chance on this scenario at 30%. Because of the worries on second inflation wave with increasing expense, and Vietnam economic still slowing down.
- With this scenario, investors should keep a low weight and observe the market cautiously.
