REMARKABLE POINTS ON THE MARKET

The market gained impressively as VN-Index gained by nearly 17 points – the highest gain since March 2023. The market was positive with gainers being nearly 4 times higher than droppers. Standing out was purple on real estate and securities and the market reacted to the information of adding some contents in Circular number 6 related to regulations on loans. Main indexes gained strongly in the afternoon and gained to close at day highest level, but the market was still quite cautious. Proof is that the liquidity on HOSE was still lower than average.

TECHNICAL POINT OF VIEW

In technical term, VN-Index gained again. The volume was better than previous session but still stayed below 10 and 20-session average, showing that the cash flow wasn't really positive. Not just that, the index still closed below MA20, and +DI was below -DI, showing that correcting pressure is there, and the main trend in short-term is still dropping. Therefore, this gain might only be within a technical recovery, with strong resistant around 1,200-1,216 points (MA20). For HNX, HNX-Index saw similar situation. The index also gained but hasn't overcome MA20 pressure, and MACD was below Signal, maintaining selling sign, showing that the gain might only be technical and the index might soon see dropping pressure again with support around 235 points (MA50). In general, the market hasn't escaped short-term dropping trend after the Bull trap on August 24. Therefore, investors should use the Bull trap to bring the weight to a safe level to limit risks from the market.
