VN-Index's trend

► Daily chart

VN Index is getting more positive in short-term, as it surpassed MA20 pressure with a thick gaining candle, and confirming sign from +DI cutting up to -DI, showing chance of changing short-term trend in positive direction.

At the same time, RSI surpassed Midline, showing that gaining trend is getting stronger and might move to challenge old peak around 1,240 points. However, other indicators like MACD was still below Signal, showing that the new buying sign hasn't been confirmed, and MA20 still dropped, showing that the trend is not really strong, and the index might see strong pressure at old peak level.
